OUTLOOK BRIGHT FOR BALL SEASON

Daily Practice Reveals Wealth of Material

FINE FORM PROMISES SUCCESS

The prospects for baseball this spring are very bright, at least that is the impression one gets from the enthusiasm at practice. On Monday night thirty-six men reported on the diamond.

The team will feel the loss of Faye, High, Wismer and Flitter, all of whom were graduated last June. There is at the present time indication that these places will be filled.

For the pitcher's position Captain Derk will doubtless again make a strong bid. Wood, another pitcher of last season, has not yet reported but is expected to do so any day. Diehm, W. Moyer, Kraesley, Poley and Ohl have lined up with the pitchers. At the receiving end there seems to be more uncertainty. Hoerner and Haupt, both Normal School catchers, are keen competitors. A few more days of practice will perhaps reveal some more catchers.

In the outfield Corson and Jones, whose record last year was very encouraging, again bid high for their positions. Other players who reported are Hunsicker, Clark, Armento, La Claire, Strine, Francis, Moyer, Hoagey, Schell, Harman, Faust, Bigley, Thompson, Loux, Denny, Engle, Sellers, Gardner, Tomlinson, Nelson, S. Peeler, Lackman, "C" Jones, Shelley, Kirkpatrick, and Sinclair. With this wealth of material Coach Zimmerman expects to round out a winning team. Assistant Coach Stoneback has been out on the diamond daily. He is looking forward to a successful scrub season.

ETHEL PAUFF CHOSEN AS MAY QUEEN

At a recent mass meeting of girls the choice of a May Queen was the main point of interest and after but a short time, Miss Ethel B. Pauff was unanimously chosen. Miss Pauff is a graduate of Nesquehoning High School where her record as a student and friend can only be surpassed by the spirit of friendship which the girls at Ursinus have for her. Though outwardly quiet, her pep at any party or function as well-known and as evidenced by the unanimous choice she is most fittingly suited to occupy the throne at the coming May Day festivities. Plans for this event are already under way and an especially interesting program is being arranged and promises to attain if not surpass those of previous years.

FORMER STUDENT APPOINTED AS MISSIONARY TO CHINA

At a meeting of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Reformed Church Miss Edna Detwiler, of Chalfont, Pa., was appointed as a missionary for the China Mission.

Miss Detwiler, graduated from Ursinus as a member of the class of 1924. While in college she took a great interest in religious circles and many well remember how ably she carried on the work of the Y. W. C. A. when she served in the capacity of President of that body. She will go to Zierner Girls' School, Yochow City, China.

NELSON '26 ELECTED TO EDIT HANDBOOK

On Thursday evening the election of the Handbook staff was held. Axel Nelson was chosen editor. Charles Hoerner was chosen business manager. These men will now proceed to choose their assistants in this work.

'24—Mary Marquardt, of Pottsville, Pa., has secured a position as a teacher in the High School at St. Clair, Pa.

ZWING PLAYS PROGRESSING RAPIDLY

Zwing Anniversary program this year will be, from all indications, a most interesting one. The two plays, "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife" and "The Gazing Globe," are assuming splendid form under the capable coaching of Professor Gawthrop; and both, although differing widely, give promise of being equally delightful. "The Gazing Globe" is a good example of pure dramatic expression; the other play, in a lighter vein, will appeal to those who enjoy the subtle satire of Anatole France.

Friends of Zwing will also be delighted to learn that Miss Frances Hoover '23, will entertain the audience with organ selections, and Mr. Howells '23 will furnish vocal music.

SOPH GIRLS WIN FROM FROSH QUINTET

Fritsch and Leo High Scorers

The Sophomore girls met the representatives of the Freshman class in the annual clash at the Field Cage on Wednesday afternoon. The Sophomores came away from the game with the larger side of the 14-6 score. But, the Freshmen did not wear long faces, for they had played a game worth playing.

The first half did not show any exceptional work on the part of either team. Neither seemed to get into the real fighting spirit until the second half. Then, the ball took a flying course from one end of the "gym" to the other. Captain Johnson's team managed to pile up the score due, to a great extent, to the excellent work of Bernice Leo who was the high scorer for the Sophomores.

For the Freshmen, no individual person can be pointed out as the star. However, Mabel Fritsch gained all the points for her team. Coach Phoebe Cornog is to be congratulated on the excellent team work of the Freshmen. In this game was discovered an abundance of fine material to be worked up into a team for next year.

QUARTET PLEASES THE SICK

The glee club quartet played the part of musical physicians on Sunday afternoon when it sang a few rambling cures to the patients of the sanitarium at Eagleville. Charles Hoerner played a similar part with several violin solos.

Short programs were given in the dining room and in the infirmary to the shut-ins. Among the well selected numbers rendered were "Twinkle, Little Star," "Spin" and "Daniel, Daniel."

The other members of the party were Owen Jones, Max Paine, Paul Krasely, Clair Blum and William Stafford as accompanist.

VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE SPEAKER

The girls of Ursinus were especially fortunate in the recent past in having Miss Florence Fflaum of Philadelphia address them on the matter of choosing a vocation. They will be just as fortunate in hearing Miss Anna B. Pratt, director of the White-Williams Foundation for Vocational Guidance in Philadelphia on the evening of March 23 on the same subject. This is one of the outstanding social agencies of the district and Miss Pratt is a thoroughly well informed and most interesting speaker.

Her talk is certain to be of great value to all women students and in view of the many demands upon her time it is especially generous of her to come to us. It is an opportunity for help in this field for every girl, which should not be neglected.

Muhlenberg Defeated in Single Debate

First Appearance of Affirmative Team on Home Floor Impressive

WARREN BIETSCH PRESIDES

Probably the most interesting debate of the season at Ursinus was held on Thursday evening between the negative team of Muhlenberg College and the Ursinus affirmative team, on the Supreme Court question. This was the first appearance of the latter team at home, and it came through with such emphatic and logical argument that their opponents from Allentown were smothered under by a unanimous decision. The team must be given credit not only for its clear-cut constructive speeches but especially for its convincing rebuttal.

The Ursinus speakers were, Ralph E. Heiges, Howard T. Herber, B. Wycliffe Griffin, and Allen C. Harman as alternate. William S. Hudders, Elmer T. Knittle, Russel Gaenzle, and John S. Rhodes as alternate composed the Muhlenberg team.

The judges of the debate were Clayton F. Wotring, Supv. Prin. East Greenville Public Schools, Earl W. Hildreth, Coach of Debating, Temple University, Werner E. DeTurk, Principal, Spring City High School.

Warren F. Bietsch '24, Graduate School of Education, University of Pennsylvania, acted as chairman. In his concise yet original manner he definitely stated that the "judges had chosen the winners."

Sterner is Chosen Captain of Basketball For 1926 Team

Stafford '26, Manager For Next Season

The athletic council met on Tuesday evening. At this meeting the following men were awarded letters. Sterner, Derk, Kern, Sommers, Clark, Heiges, Bigley, Hoagey, Moyer, and Eger who was manager.

Wm. Stafford was chosen manager for next season. The Junior managers selected were, Rousch, Reimert, and Fink. "Gip" Sterner, former Collegeville star and hard working forward on this season's squad was chosen captain for next year. With eight lettermen to start the next year a successful season can be expected.

MUSIC PUPILS HAVE RECITAL AT MAPLES

The studio at Maples was the scene of another delightful recital on Thursday, March 5. Miss Gest prefaced it with a short informal talk on "The Pianist as a Medium."

La Rue Wertman made her debut with Beethoven's "Minuet in G", which is ever pleasing, and "The Spinning Wheel" by Tinning.

In contrast, Miss Wagner played two modern Russian numbers—so weird and yet so fascinating!

Miss Chase was the second "frosh" to appear. She played "Minuet" by Paderewski, and "The Wanderer" by Grieg, which was very vividly interpreted.

"Meditation" by Tschai Kosky, "Sol-fegietto" by Bach, followed by the brilliant "Revolutionary Etude" by Chopin were rendered by Sallybelle Mosser.

Miss Yost concluded the hour of music with a group composed of a Chopin "Nocturne," "Theme," by Pirkherst, and last "Hungarian," a characteristic MacDowell number.

TRIANGULAR DEBATE WITH BUCKNELL AND ALBRIGHT

We were informed after a short interview with the manager of debate, Howard Herber '25, that on Friday evening March 20 both affirmative and negative teams will again engage in a forensic tilt. This debate will be of the triangular type consisting of Bucknell, Albright and Ursinus.

The teams will debate the Supreme Court question. The affirmative team will travel to Myerstown where they will meet the Albright negative team. The negative team will remain at home to debate the Bucknell affirmative team. The triangle will be completed March 26 when the Albright affirmative will journey to Lewisburg to meet the Bucknell negative.

FROSH BOYS BEAT SOPH TOSSERS

Bigley and Haupt Star in Fracas

Thompson memorial field cage was again the scene of a great battle when the respective quintets of the Sophomore and Freshmen classes clashed in their annual inter-class struggle on Thursday afternoon. A good crowd was present when referee Zimmerman tossed the ball for the opening tapoff of the game in which the Freshmen came through with the points in the early part of the second half winning by a narrow margin of 18-15.

The game started off with a bang with Sommers and Ohl fighting for the tap off at center. The freshmen were the first to score gaining the first point through a foul. During the first half the game was especially exciting when the score zig-zagged back and forth with no team having a decided advantage. The first half ended with the freshmen gaining an 8-5 lead on their rivals.

The second half was the scene of many a tussle in which members of both teams were seen floundering around on the floor. At no time during the game did the Sophomores lead the scoring although there was a 5-5 tie score during the 1st half. For the Sophomores Haupt, the slippery and wiry forward, was the high scorer (Continued on page 4)

W. S. G. A.

W. S. G. A. mass meeting assumed a very business like attitude from beginning to end. After the preliminaries, the nominating committee presented the following nominees for election in the near future: President—Threapleton, Derr, Shipe; vice President—Leo, Johnson, Reimert; Secretary—Stibitz, Von Steuben, Levengood, Moyer; treasurer—Harter, Radcliff, Walbert.

The president stated a number of privileges which are pending and which will be considered by the revision committee. A motion was made and carried that the expenses of outside speakers be paid by the Council.

Winifred Derr gave a most interesting report of the Council's recent visit to Drexel where they were cordially entertained by the Drexel Council. In the discussion of Council problems the girls said that their problems were very similar to our own but such associations are always constructive, whatever form the discussions assume.

We were very glad for Dean White's report to the girls of the N. A. D. W. conference at Cincinnati. In the short time she presented the main features she thought of chief interest to the girls. To the seniors she recommended the American College Bureau in N. Y. which places only college women. In describing the new dormitories and other structures of the college campuses, the imagination was led to see the vision of the future Ursinus campus which all would be proud to claim.

URSINUS TOSSERS' SEASON SUCCESSFUL

Kern, Heiges and Hoagey are High Scorers

SCORE 472 TO 403 OF OPPONENTS

Ursinus Red and Black tossers have just completed one of the most successful seasons for the record of their college. At the very beginning of the season it was noticed that a real spirit of determination existed which soon showed that it would spell victories for the old 'U'.

The season ended with the Ursinus club, for the first time in many seasons, boasting of more points to their credit than their rivals. Against 403 points scored by their opponents Ursinus can proudly say that she scored 472. Of the 16 games played 9 victories and 7 defeats were chalked up. Two of these defeats were lost by two points.

Dickinson, Muhlenberg, Temple and Delaware went down to defeat at the hands of the club. The Dickinson game may well be pointed out as the best game of the season. It was here that the team showed the real fighting spirit. The score continually see-sawed and tied and then some more thrills—with ten seconds to go Derk broke through the Dickinson defense and tied the score. The game ended a tie and in the extra five-minute period played Dickinson scored a foul, but this only spurred our men on. Hoagy intercepted a pass by Dickinson, tossed the ball to Sterner who scored for Ursinus and won the game.

In the game with University of Penna. the squad was leading at half time 11-10.

Captain Kern was the leading scorer of the squad. Heiges the only member of the varsity five to be lost by graduation ranked second to Kern. Heiges a strong defense player often broke through the enemy to get his share of the bacon. His services will be greatly missed next season. Hoagy a freshman who, hails from Perkasio finished the season in third place. A resume of the schedule of victories and losses to follow will clearly convince anyone that team work surely existed.

A BETTER APPOINTMENT BUREAU

Every year when commencement day is fast approaching the members of the Senior Class begin to wonder very seriously where they would be employed for the next year. The difficulty of receiving appointments is increased by the fact that most of the prospectives have had little or no experience and the fact that the Liberal Arts Colleges do not prepare for any definite occupations or professions. Thus the possessor of the newly-acquired sheepskin is at a loss as to what he shall do. The professional and graduate schools are open to him but frequently the "where-with-all" is lacking.

Ursinus is fortunate in the fact that quite a large percentage of her graduates are definitely prepared to enter the teaching field. To help those who plan to enter this field an appointment bureau has been established. This bureau has done a great service in the few years of its existence. But like every other project it has not yet reached its possibilities.

Perhaps the greatest field of support to this bureau should come from alumni and former students. This group is in a better position to know the needs outside the College. Alumni should deem it both a privilege and duty to inform the appointment bureau of vacancies in school systems with which they are acquainted. Alumni who are looking for positions might well register with the bureau and perhaps too be aided by its services.

And then there is another possibility. There is room in fields other than teaching. Is it not possible for the bureau to aid those who plan to enter the business world? Here again the alumni could play an important role. And then there are other phases of activities. Could those who plan to enter these not also receive aid from the bureau? If every Senior would register his intentions with the bureau and every alumnus would register his needs then a mutually helpful bureau could be made to operate. Co-operation in this is necessary for its operation.

WHAT DO THE GROUPS MEAN TO US?

Quite recently the students of Ursinus had the opportunity to hear Dr. Slosson, the noted scientist, remark that he had learned from his short visit on the campus that Ursinus "specializes in a liberal education." This specialization of education has been made possible by the group system of study. The groups permit the students to major in a certain course, but at the same time, they are given an opportunity to supplement this major by a well balanced and broad minor course.

In the past week the enthusiasm manifested at the final group meetings of the year shows very clearly that the group has made possible this higher liberal education. When we consider that students in most liberal arts colleges select a major line of work with no guide to direct them in their minor selection we begin to realize what a plan such as this means. It is a plan which keeps the field of liberal knowledge within reasonable bounds. How many of us are taking advantage of this system and using our spare time in supplementing this higher education by research of our own? How many of us go beyond the covers of our text books for comments of other authors on these subjects?

We are now at that season of the year when we are too easily led away from our work to out door activities. But let us remember to hold fast to the tradition that Ursinus specializes in a liberal education. We can do this only so far as we plan for our work, as well as the group plans for our special course.

G. H. H., '27

A subject that never grows old to the professional, or otherwise, adviser is procrastination, yet we feel that an attempt to show how far the tendency about the campus in all the school activities, this rather deeply imbedded habit has been formed. It seems that all twist the words "Sufficient unto the day are the evils thereof" in a way which would lead one to think they read "Think not of the morrow, do all at the last minute, even tho the result be mediocre."

There have been complaints concerning the deterioration of societies, clubs and other like organizations, yet we go ahead forming new ones without seeming to realize the trouble lies not in the standards or usefulness of the old organization, and that success can be attained by forming others, but if each member put in the required amount of work at the proper time, there need be no fear of failure or stagnation.

This is not only to be applied to these groups but to individual endeavors. This can now be most appropriate to the coming Junior Oratorical Contest. "Silence is Golden" runs the old saying, but it should now be the duty of every Junior interested, to do his best to make his speech "golden". Though the contest may seem far off, there is nothing to hinder to make a good beginning which will result in ultimate victory. To make this a real test of ability, every Junior should at least make an attempt to do his bit, for the prize winner is not the only one to be commended—every best bit will receive its just reward.

Y. W. C. A.

"Your Home Town and You" was the topic Miss Walbert chose for the Y. W. C. A. meeting last Wednesday evening. Following the innovation of a few weeks ago questions upon the subject were brought up for open discussion. The leader read a poem, "It Isn't Your Town, It's You," which was a most appropriate beginning. Then the problems of the "small-town" girl, and of the "city" girl were discussed.

The college student's desire should be to help those companions less fortunate than she by bringing new thoughts and ideas to them, thus gradually drawing them out of their narrow ways. If these attempts are devoid of condescensions the antagonism will soon vanish.

The person who returns from college a snob can give nothing to her home community, and nothing should be expected of this type. But of the truly educated woman the home-place can expect service and not be disappointed. An education is to be used, not kept for exhibition on rare occasions as some exquisite work of art would be.

Then a problem that faces every senior was introduced: Is it advisable to return to one's home town as a teacher immediately after graduation from college? Much was said pro and con, but as individuals, towns and circumstances differ, no definite answer was given. Each man and each woman must decide such a question for themselves.

Those who read the article in the Y. M. column of the Weekly for Mar. 2 remember that the meeting for Mar. 11 was scheduled for a rally to this branch of college life. True to schedule a real rally was on foot for a larger number was in attendance than has been for quite some time. The meeting was opened by a splendid quartet with Mr. Maxwell Paine, leader.

Mr. John Bisbing was the speaker of the evening. He used as his topic the question, "What would happen if we took Christianity seriously?" This question recently caused a great deal of discussion in Denver, Col. and in answer to it there the people of the city started a movement for the settlement of disputes, that has met with great success. This answer should be made nation wide and beyond that, world wide. The nucleus for this movement is the present day college student.

Interesting discussions followed this speech. all bringing out the idea that greater responsibility for this work is falling to the college student daily.

The Tower Window

It is not too early for alumni and others to be making their plans for the coming commencement. Ursinus hopes to make this the biggest and best commencement ever, and in order to realize this hope, the graduates and friends of the College must do their part. The dates are Friday, June 5 to Monday, June 8, including in order, Class Day, Alumni Day, Baccalaureate Sunday and Commencement Day. These annual occasions are of great importance to the College. The greatest interest centers naturally in the graduating class. To the members of the class it is the great consummation toward which they have been striving through the years—the attainment of a very distinct goal, and therefore deeply significant for their lives. From the homes out of which they have come will come at this time the loved ones who have stood back of them. From Class Day to Commencement Day, the program will be full of interest for the home folks.

The alumni have a somewhat wider interest in commencement. Like the parents of the graduates, they feel an interest in the Class. They want to know what manner of youth are these who are about to join the alumni body and they are glad to meet them personally. But greater still are the joys of meeting one another, of visiting ready to learn the ways in which they ing former teachers and friends connected with the institution. While the old things appeal, the alumni like to note improvements and additions for they want to see their College grow. Consequently they are interested in the further plans and are ready to learn the ways in which they can help carry them out. Various business meetings interest them—the sessions of the Athletic Club, the Woman's Club, the Alumni Association and of the Directors. In the enactments of these bodies lie the challenge for service and the definition of particular duties for the coming year. How the very atmosphere becomes electric with interest when from every meeting room come echoes of progress and larger undertakings. And how every one becomes encouraged when there are large numbers present to share in the enthusiasms of the hour.

There will be a number of class reunions this year as usual. The fifty year olds and the twenty-five year olds will be accorded special honors. But other classes are arranging reunions and there are sure to be many friends and associates of your college days here, whatever may have been your class.

Therefore, take a red pencil and mark off June 5-8 for the Ursinus Commencement. G. L. O.

SCHAFF

An exceptionally well rounded and well executed program was presented in Schaff on Friday night, one which clearly showed an unflinching interest in the society.

Natalie Fliteraft, in her first appearance, delighted all by two selections on her and in her rendition real talent was displayed. Another Freshman, also in her initial performance, was Dorothy Tower. Her recitation was well interpreted and had the necessary touches of expression which make a success.

The hoodoo was certainly in working order on Friday and co-operated most efficiently with Roscoe Peters in his display of magic with chemicals as well as occultism. The crowning number was the orchestra, led by Mr. Peterson, assisted by Messrs. Haupt, Sommers, Mulford, Hoerner, with Miss Barth at the piano. The feelings of the entire society were well expressed in the enthusiasm at the close of the number.

Pearl Kimes brought the society back to earth in her short but very appropriate oration on progress.

Katherine Stevenson, assisted by Catherine Shipe as Buddha, showed that her fund of originality was not exhausted, and that Terpsichore had a graceful and apt pupil on his list. Bertha Weaver read the Gazette, her editorial containing many useful hints and advices. Friday, thirteenth, worked its charm by bringing to Schaff one of the best programs it has had this year.

ZWING

Zwing's program on Friday evening was miscellaneous. The audience was delighted with the duets rendered by Misses Harter and Witman. Their first number was "Polish Dance" by Prince; the encore "Waltz" by Schubert was equally pleasing.

Miss Schaffer's "Humorous Reading" was truly humorous. Mother Goose always pleases. Mr. Fritsch then read a carefully prepared paper—a "Resume of Basketball"—bringing back in very vivid style many pleasant memories especially to those of the cheering section.

Kreisler's "Caprice biennois" was played by Miss Ehly in her characteristic way. Each program discloses latent "Frosh" talent. Miss Hamm next appeared in the role of reader. The French and Italian tinges of her selections lent atmosphere and variety to the program.

A delightful and intimate resume of the girls' basketball season was given by "Sister" Fritsch, who was herself a "yellow jacket."

Mr. Jones impromptu number was a pleasing little love song. Mr. Denny followed with the hit of the evening—"Ursinus in 1955" original, to say the least!

A dissertation on present day politics by Mr. Heiges was enlightening to the audience as a whole. Mr. Miller's Zwinglian Review, read by Mr. Reimert, contained a splendid editorial in which the author waxed quite poetic. The jokes were few but clever and funny. After the critics report the society adjourned.

Groups Convene for the Final Meeting of the School Year

Many Interesting Problems Discussed Revealing a Wealth of Talent

Classical Group

Shreiner was again honored by the closing meeting of the year of the Classical group. One of the leading features of the evening was the excellent program which followed. The first number of the program was a piano solo, "Captain Vienna" by Kreisler, rendered by Miss Ehly and was greatly appreciated by every one present. A paper on "Progress" was presented in a very interesting manner by Mr. Brenner. He brought out to us that the study of the classics makes for progress. Mr. Ulrich entertained us with a delightful violin solo—"Song of India". Miss Hamm made her first appearance on the group program, by rendering to us a pleasing and impressive reading, "Vive La France". Mr. Pentz in a very carefully prepared paper gave us the "History of our College". A short talk by our group adviser Prof. Sawhill was appreciated by all. He told us what lead him to study the classics and pointed out to us the treasures hidden in these studies.

A general good time consisting of refreshments and music followed. Undoubtedly this part of the evening left many memories with the classicists. The program was concluded by the singing of the campus song.

Math. Group

The Mathematical group held its second meeting at Olevian Hall on Tuesday night. The general topic of the meeting was Varieties of Graphic Charts.

The program was opened by a piano solo, very ably given by Fred V. Roeder '25. Following this Prof. Clawson, group adviser, made a few introductory remarks in which he explained the latest graphs and charts and presented an interesting chart of the growth of the groups at Ursinus College.

Charles Hoerner, '26, contrasted the increase of a sum of money at interest by arithmetic and logarithmic charts. Helen Johnson, '25, and Winifred Derr, '26, delighted the group with a vocal duet.

Edna Harter, '26, explained polar charts and "pie" charts, after which Charles Hoerner rendered a violin solo in his usual excellent style.

Fred Roeder presented trilinear charts and explained their worth. A quartet led by George Kirkpatrick, '26, rendered several impromptu numbers in their own pleasing way. Harriet Smith, '26, presented a triangular "each to each" chart and explained its simplicity. Math Mirth was cleverly given by Alice Miller, '26.

An enjoyable social hour directly preceded adjournment.

Chem-Bi Group

For the second time this year Schaff Hall was the scene of what might be called "Chem-Bi" night, because never before has such an inspiring program been presented. Doctor Allen's proteges were all "tied-up" so to speak for what they supposed was going to be a real program, and their expectations were more than fully realized.

After attending to old business the following program was rendered:

Mr. Elmer Herber gave a very interesting talk on "Timely Science Topics," in which he discussed such questions as "The Recent Eclipse," "Prevention of Diseases in Both Plant and Animal" and also the new invention of the Diesel locomotive. This was followed by Mr. Willard Moyer's "Travels," depicting his trip to the Pacific coast via. Chicago, Yellowstone, and the Grand Canyon. It was very descriptive and absorbing. Mr. Sommers and Mr. Peterson's duet proved a very agreeable number and both "The Pal That I Love" and "Memory Lane," deserved the attentive attitude evidenced by the group. A paper on "Science" by Mr. Nelson was well prepared and read. He took "Religion as a Factor in Human Evolution."

The number that certainly capped the climax of an excellent program was a heart-to-heart address by Doctor Allen. In it he spoke of a skull recently discovered in Africa and lastly he appealed to the students to realize fully the value of honesty and its relation to faith, citing some vivid examples.

The meeting ended in the usual manner, that is—the serving of delicacies.

Historical-Political Group

A lively discussion on the admission of co-eds to the Historical-Political group and a pleasing ensemble of musical numbers were headliners on the group program given Tuesday evening in the "Y" rooms. In an unofficial vote following the discussion, the fair were ruled out in an overwhelming vote, 18 to 2.

H-P men talked of co-ed membership for want of something better to discuss—and nothing more. Dr. McCoy introduced the subject in his talk. It was taken up immediately pro and con. A handful of defenders of the feminine cause held their own rather admirably.

Messrs. Wisler, Krasley, Loux and Thompson brought down the house in quartet selections, the opening number. Poley, Tomlinson and Ohl presented a minute or so of nonsense in their skit, "Frosh Amusement".

An instrumental duet, Messrs. Corson and Thompson, drew its share of applause. Howard Herber followed with an extemporaneous talk and Dr. McCoy brought with him the live-wire number of the evening, the discussion which followed his talk.

E. H. Group

A most enjoyable and pleasant evening was spent by the members of the English-Historical group at the second semester group meeting held in Zwinglian Literary Society hall. The first number on the pleasing and much appreciated program was a piano solo by Miss Lucas, which was followed by a vocal solo by Miss Barth. Both numbers received much applause.

Miss Shaffer read an extremely interesting article concerning Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., and his knowledge and love for books. Miss Alice Berger gave the reading "In a Royal Garden." Miss Berger's expression and clear enunciation made the number one of the best on the program.

"Pierrot's Mother", a delightful sketch was presented under the leadership of Miss Stevenson and Miss Stibitz. Miss Wagner then gave two pleasing piano solos. These were well received by the audience, as is all Miss Wagner's work. Miss Martin read the E-H Spice, and the "wise cracks" and witty jokes were keenly appreciated.

Prof. Smith gave an interesting talk upon the meaning of the group system and its purpose. He also explained the purpose of the E-H Group.

The high spot of the evening was the delicious refreshments which followed the program, after which the meeting adjourned.

Modern Language Group

The Modern Language group met at the home of Prof. and Mrs. Bretz for its bi-yearly meeting. Due to the prevalent ailment, some of the performer's couldn't appear.

As an initial entertainer Melba Farnsler most gracefully interpreted a Spanish dance, carrying one's imagination to romantic Old Spain. As a continuation of Southern European art, Elizabeth Black sang an Italian love song and skillfully combined excellent interpretation and an appropriately pitched voice.

A short scene taken from Moliere's comedy "Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme" was presented with Hope Dietrich and Ralston Oberholtzer as the two main and only characters.

Helen Walbert then read a humorous Pennsylvania German anecdote, also the history of this language. Those who understood greatly enjoyed the humorous selection, though the rest could but look on.

After two short talks by Prof. Bretz and Prof. Yost several interesting games were played and the group likewise indulged in a French spelling bee with fair success. The refreshments were most heartily welcomed and appreciated, contributing to make the last meeting of the year an all-around success.

E. & B. A. Group

The meeting of the Economics and Business Administration group was held in Bomberger Hall. The short program was one filled with good thought mixed with fun. Mr. Armento, the Frosh Paderewski, and Mr. Mulford with the saxophone, assisted by Messrs. Denny, Jones and Roehm as songsters, delighted all with several popular songs. An O. Henry reading by Miss Stichler proved very interesting and was followed by a paper written by Mr. Schoenley. "Dr." Denny's jokes were jokes, as shown in the way they were received.

The event of the evening was several extemporaneous discussions on up-to-date subjects. They brought forth many new ideas, especially Mr. Clark's "Side Lights on International Relations" and Miss Hamilton's "Cross-Word Puzzle Fad." Messrs. Brachman, Henkels and Evans were the other speakers who added to our knowledge on deep subjects.

Prof. Boswell's short talk was as usual worth while and his humor caused many a merry chuckle.

Refreshments were by no means an unhappy ending to the evening's entertainment, and the meetings of the E. and B. A. group will go down in our memory as some of the best times of the year.
